North American River otters are one of the most personable and curious animals! Come along and help the zoo keeper prepare their diet, feed them, and provide enrichment. You may observe a training session as well. Don’t forget about the Arctic fox — you will get the chance to meet them, too!

What can I expect?
This is a working encounter, so expect to be on your feet and moving throughout. You will be: walking, bending, crouching, cleaning, and carrying various items. Encounters operate rain or shine and the work is fast paced.
