FINANCIAL REPORT

Director Wagner reported that earned revenue was down $125,000 from 2024 due to decreased admissions which also impacts gift shop sales and food sales. She stated there had not been any unexpected expenses and they would continue to work to keep expenses down to help with decreased revenue.

ADMISSION & PARKING REPORT

Director Wagner reported that admissions was down for May and June 2025 compared to 2024 as well as year to date. She reported that several zoos were reporting decreased admission YTD on an AZA list serves and asking other zoos what trends they were seeing. She reported that both paid admission and the free admission categories are down including Monday mornings, ZIYN and membership visits.

ZOO DIRECTOR REPORT

Major Elements Reported by Director Wagner:

- Pennsylvania Ave. work is nearing completion and will reopen soon.
- The Society hosted Auto Owners for a two-evening private event that 1,335 attended.
- The new plan your day board will be completed soon as the artist has completed refurbishing the tiger from the old Pennsylvania Ave. sign.
- A red panda cub was born recently.
- PPZ is hatching and rearing Blanding's turtles as part of a head starting conservation collaboration. The turtles will be released in the spring of 2026.

NEW BUSINESS

2026 County Fee Resolution

Director Wagner reported the Ingham County Board of Commissioners passed the admission and parking fee increase starting in 2026. This will also allow the Zoo Director to discount admissions up to fifty percent due to weather or construction conditions.

2026 Budget Presentation

Director Wagner shared the budget presentation that was prepared for the Human Services Controller Budget meeting including the 10 year look back and the charts showing the revenue and expense categories. She stated the 2026 budget request is largely status quo with the major challenges being deferred maintenance, millage renewal, weather, increased AZA and USDA standards, increased labor and supply costs and zoonotic disease prevention.

Feline Primate Design Concepts

Director Wagner shared the outside and inside concept options that were developed by PGAV with staff input. She stated staff agreed that Option B for the outside exhibits is the best option. It would not be helpful for guests to have a third exhibit yard that will not have an animal in it for the majority of the time and Option B eliminates that possibility by having the third yard become an off-exhibit yard.

For the inside options, staff like Option A with some changes needed. Staff will request they incorporate the inside tiger viewing from Option B, enlarge the exhibit labeled spider monkey and remove tunnels to the central habitat as it will be a separate species. While Option B offers a few additional features it was also the more expensive budget, and decisions will need to be made to get closer to the 10M budget to move forward with planning.

Director Wagner shared that PGAV had done a great job listening to staff incorporating their ideas and improving upon them. The next step once the concept is finalized is to have site survey and evaluations done while the RFP is completed for the Construction Manager. The goal is to bring the construction manager on for the schematic design phase.

OLD BUSINESS

Animal Health Facility Progress

Director Wagner stated the opening of the hospital has been pushed back at least a month and that the grand opening will hopefully be in September.

Stormwater Infrastructure Federal Grant Update

Director Wagner stated they are continuing to move forward with this project and the kick-off design meeting is scheduled to meet the team and discuss the project first steps.

Fundraising Update

Executive Director Morris-Hall reported a case for support is being developed for the Feline Primate project and the Society team will be seeking sponsorships of exhibits. She also mentioned several new corporate and individual donors generated by the Society's fund development team.

BOARD COMMENTS

Dr. Snider stated an endowment is needed for programming.

Director's Report August 10, 2025

Remembering Doppsee

Losing any animal at the zoo is a very difficult and devastating part of what we do. Losing an animal that had an impact in the way Doppsee did on the zoo, the community, and the zoo world as a whole is something that can't be put into words.

Doppsee has been a staple of Potter Park Zoo for the last 14 years. From Big Zoo Lesson, to meet and greets, and specialty tours, Doppsee was able to meet and inspire tens of thousands of zoo guests. The many research projects we were able to participate in because of her benefited both rhinos in human care as well as their wild counterparts. The impact and effect she had at our zoo is immeasurable.

This loss is not something we will ever completely get over, and we will never forget the impact she had on our lives and the zoo.

I want to thank everyone who helped with her care, especially this last month. Area 60 for putting in countless hours with her. The veterinary staff who did absolutely everything they could to help her. The MSU specialists who came to the zoo day after day to help us. The rest of the animal care staff who often worked with fewer people or helped area 60 so they could be with Doppsee. The maintenance team for assisting in every way they could. And everyone in the zoo for being so understanding and helping in whatever way they were asked. Whether it was providing food for the keepers and vets, rescheduling meetings and events to lighten the keepers' loads, or just checking in to see how we were. We cannot thank you enough.

Conservation Engagement

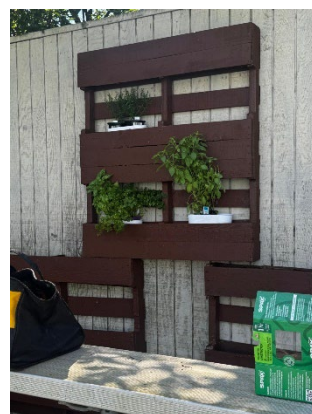

From April through August, our dedicated volunteers and interns brought the zoo's mission to life by engaging with guests at Conservation Stations. Together, they contributed an incredible 1,120 hours of service and connected with 37,541 visitors during the 2025 season, helping inspire our community to care about wildlife and conservation!

The Zoo Teen program has officially wrapped! This summer, zoo teens logged a total of 2,392 hours and engaged with 15,362 guests at Conservation Stations. We celebrated the program's conclusion with food, games, and awards at the campground. Zoo Teens were awarded for the most hours volunteered in camp, the Contact Yard, Conservation Stations, and overall hours. The Zoo Teens had a fun summer!

We are celebrating International Red Panda Day on Sunday, September 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.! Several volunteers and interns will be posted throughout the zoo at education stations to engage with guests and share about red pandas.

On Friday, August 22, one of our Zoo Teens, Justin, proudly completed his Eagle Scout Project here at the zoo! He designed and built a vertical garden in the amphitheater next to the Farmyard, transforming the space with greenery and new life.

The Eaton RESA high school class started on Monday, Aug 18. Students will be on grounds from 7:25 to 9:15 a.m. and from 12:05 to 2:00 p.m. for the entire school year. This program is a wonderful opportunity for us to inspire the next generation of conservation professionals, and we're excited to see the students dive into their coursework and projects.

PPZ hosted Mary Wykstra, Founder and Executive Director of Action for Cheetahs in Kenya (ACK), for 25 Years of Speed & Survival for an informational and inspiring conservation talk on Monday, Sept. 1. Mary shared ACK's hands-on conservation work in the field and the global efforts to protect one of the world's most iconic big cats.

Zookambi summer camp had 449 campers who explored, discovered, and created lifelong memories. From inspiring conservation lessons to expanding the scope of zoo careers to unforgettable keeper talks the summer was truly extraordinary for every camper.

Over 730 guests visited in August with a Zoo in Your Neighborhood pass. It was the highest number of visitors we have had in the month of August for the program!

The annual FALCONERS dinner is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 26. Members Night had over 900 members attend! □

We now have 44 Blanding's turtles that have hatched this year as part of our rescue/headstarting project involvement!

These eggs are part of a head-start program in conjunction with a study by the Michigan Natural Features Inventory. MNFI has been looking at Blanding's turtles in the state for over 6 years and part of their research is looking at the survivorship of head-started turtles compared to wild hatchlings and trying to determine if head-starting is a viable management and conservation tool that can be used in the future.

We started with 30 eggs – 16 were placed in an incubator at temperatures to become female (30.0 °C) and 14 were set in an incubator at a lower temperature that corresponds with male development (27.0°C). However, at the end of the field work, the researches came across 2 turtles that had been hit by cars, and we asked to add the additional 15 eggs to our DNR permit since they would otherwise be lost. We set all of these eggs in an incubator at female temps.

All of these turtles will eventually be released back into the wild.

Dr. Ronan is happy to report that a paper that he helped co-author with other researchers from around the US was accepted for publication in the scientific journal Frontiers. “Antibody Reactivity to Afmp1p Antigen in Penguins with Probable and Confirmed Aspergillosis. “

Fungal pneumonia caused by various fungal Aspergillus species is a major cause of morbidity and mortality in zoo housed penguins. This is a study that hopes to aid zoo clinicians in diagnosing this disease in penguins.
